

RUSH CAMPAIGN AGAINST NACO.

Sonora Officials Hope to Out-march Federals.

Big Force Mobilized Under Obregon at Del Rio.

Gov. Gonzales of Chihuahua Executed at Jimenez.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
NOGALES (Ariz.) March 21.—Facing the Federal forces from Guaymas, the Chihuahua gulf port in Sonora, officials of the insurgent State decided today to hasten the campaign against Naco and Cananea, the only remaining Federal garrison in the north. After crushing Gen. Ojeda at Naco on the Arizona border and Col. Moreno at Cananea, an American mining center, below the border, all available State troops will be rushed against Guaymas. The report today that 4000 Mexican soldiers are being hurried by transport from Pacific Coast points to Guaymas where 1000 Federals already are located will occasion great haste in completing the northern campaign.

STATE TROOPS MOBILIZED.
While neither Naco nor Cananea now contains more than 150 Federals, nearly 1500 State troops mobilized today at Del Rio, midway between Cananea and the border. Gen. Obregon, head of all State forces, was in personal command of the column which moved on three trains with ample supplies of foodstuffs and ammunition, two field pieces and a number of machine guns. Leaving Ojeda temporarily to his internal problem of preventing desertions ever since he fled into Arizona, it was decided first to attack Cananea, returning immediately by rail against Naco.

RABAGO TIED UP.
Already State troops are mobilizing along the Sonora railway, just north of Guaymas, to prevent any sudden rally of the Federal forces. Hermosillo, the State capital. But not until the northern campaign is completed can it be organized to oppose any formidable advances of Federal troops. Also, the State authorities must guard the Chihuahua frontier. While Gen. Rabago cannot leave the vicinity of Chihuahua city because of activities of Constitutionalists to the south of him, he is feared that other ex-insurgent leaders will follow Antonio Rojas, who has entered Western Sonora.

Gov. Gonzales Executed.
Muller probably will be brought tomorrow to Nogales, Sonora. Myrtle surrounded the cause of his detention at the State capital and the ruling of the Banco de Sonora, of which he was president, and his manager. State officials declare that Muller had written letters to Mexico City asking that Federal troops be sent to subdue the Sonora rebellion. Efforts of diplomatic agents of both Germany and the United States so far, have failed in obtaining the German banker's unconditional release.

Gov. Gonzales Executed.
Mexicans from Juarez Say They Were Part of Firing Squad Which Killed Him.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
EL PASO, March 21.—Mexicans arriving at Juarez from the south today declared that they were part of a firing squad which executed Abraham Gonzalez, Governor of Chihuahua, a fortnight ago. Gonzales was killed under the "fugitive law," the Mexicans declare.

The Chihuahua Governor, his self-proclaimed executioners say, was killed before arriving at Torreon while on his way from Chihuahua city to Mexico City, where he was to have been placed on trial for an alleged revolutionary plot.

At Jimenez the ex-Governor was surrounded from six other prisoners and alone, in a mine from Manzanillo by an engine, was hurried south. At a quiet place north of Torreon he was removed from the engine and taken to a place where he was executed.

Gonzales has been missing since his removal from Chihuahua nearly three weeks ago. He was one of the most prominent promoters of the Maderista revolution and well known among American cattle men before the revolution, as a member of the Maderista party. He was educated at Notre Dame University, South Bend, Ind.

FEDERALS AT GUAYMAS.

Big Force Expected Monday to Proceed Against Insurgent Troops at Hermosillo.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
GUAYMAS (Mex.) March 21.—It was said officially that 4000 Federal troops would arrive here Monday to proceed against the insurgent State authorities at Hermosillo. The troops will come by a train from Manzanillo where they embarked from the neighborhood of Mexico City. Already about 1000 Federals are garrisoned here.

ASK SURRENDER OF CANAÑA.

EXPECT ATTACK TODAY.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
CANANEA (Mex.) March 21.—A demand for the surrender of this place was received today by Col. Moreno of the Federal garrison here, from Col. Cabral, commanding the State forces now mobilizing at Del Rio, midway between Cananea and Naco, on the border. Cabral said he would attack in the morning and recommended that all women and children be removed. He threatened to attack all women and children who have been removed.

Norwegian Botanists, Shipwrecked on the Coast of Siberia, Lose All Their Specimens and Their Craft Because They Lacked One Can of Standard Oil.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
NOME (Alaska) March 21.—John Koren, the Norwegian botanist, whose power schooner Kittle Wake and the American whaling schooner Morris were crushed to bits by the ice at Cape Serge on the Siberian coast last fall, arrived today in Nome. All the equipment, furs and specimens taken by the Koren expedition were lost.

Koren, the crew member of the party, remained in camp two days on the Alaska coast, while Gottschalk proceeded to Nome with the news of the loss of the two schooners.

The botanist said he could have saved the Kittle Wake if he had had one can of gasoline to use in his engine. The Kittle Wake's supply of gasoline was lost while the schooner was far off Colyma River, which never had been explored.

Koren has been in the Arctic since the summer of 1911. The expedition started from Seattle, Wash.

THE JOYS OF REBELLION.

"Come and Get Me," Says a General for Whom a Warrant of Extradition Had Been Issued.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
EL PASO (Tex.) March 21.—"Dear Senor Don General Antonio Rabago: You have asked for my extradition from the United States, and I am now in Mexico. Come and get me."

This was the message received here today from Francisco Villa, a former Maderista insurgent general. He wrote from San Andres, in the Guerrero district west of Chihuahua city, the State capital, where Gen. Antonio Rabago is located with some 2000 Federal troops.

Villa, with a few followers, entered the field in Chihuahua State from El Paso, where he had journeyed since his escape from Mexico City. He has been imprisoned at the national capital by order of Gen. Huerta, now provisional President.

Jose Ines Salazar, another Maderista ex-insurgent leader, is reported to have secured a concession in the Casa Grande district, southwest of Juarez. Salazar's troops will occupy Casa Grande on the withdrawal of all Federal soldiers. He will be made Military Governor of the district.

Long Nervous Strain Tells on Dr. Friedmann.

Allows Government Doctors to Select Subjects.

Banquet to Be Given in Scientist's Honor.

(BY FEDERAL WIRELESS LINE TO THE TIMES.)

NEW YORK BUREAU OF THE TIMES, March 21.—[Special Dispatch.] After an inspection of the patients in the tuberculosis wards of Bellevue, including those on the convalescent, ferryboat, Southside, where youthful patients with incipient tuberculosis are cared for, Dr. Friedmann returned to his hotel with the announcement that he would operate at Bellevue this afternoon, as he had intended, because he had only one day left to operate on ten or eleven patients before he would be taken from the hospital today. Of these three are children and several men taken from landwards and nine men and seven women from the Southside.

Some of the cases brought to Dr. Friedmann's notice were rejected by the government doctors, and he was entirely within his rights in declining to treat them because their cases were not clearly defined and typical and were complicated with other diseases.

FRIEDMANN EXHAUSTED.

Dr. Friedmann was really in no condition to go on with his work today. He was exhausted and nervous from the strain of his four hours of operating under very difficult conditions yesterday at the hospital for deformities and incurable diseases in Harlem.

The long nervous strain which Dr. Friedmann has undergone, suggested by the hostility of some of his profession who have little faith in his culture, has also told heavily on his vitality. He is tired and worn, though cheerful today.

Dr. Stimson and Dr. Salmon of the Public Health Service, and Dr. Friedmann's treatment for the government, asked the German physician today if he would be willing to have ten patients selected from the hospital for deformities (which has been improved) sent to Mount Sinai Hospital for his treatment. The government surgeons said they would like to have these cases directly under their eyes all the time after the improvement of the patients. Under this condition he could be done best at Mount Sinai. Dr. Friedmann readily assented, but declined to make the selection.

BANQUET FOR FRIEDMANN.

The friendly relations between Dr. Friedmann and the city of New York, as a promoter and president of the Astoria National Bank, have been so far as they ever were intimate.

It was announced at the Astoria Hotel today that a banquet in honor of Dr. Friedmann and his assistants, Dr. A. C. Friedmann, Dr. Maurice Stimson, and Dr. Salmon, will be given at the Astoria National Bank, near Great Neck, Long Island, Sunday evening.

Dr. Friedmann received a cablegram today from Dr. Sieck, the specialist with whom he left his Berlin practice. It was a report of marked improvement in the patient about whom Dr. Friedmann was greatly concerned because he had been admitted at a time when the case seemed hopeless.

DENVER CHIEF UPHOLDS WOMAN WHO TOOK MONEY.

Refuses to Arrest Mrs. Donald of Cheyenne, Who Admits Borrowing Money Superciliously, Because Man Had Abused Her and She Declined to Flee.

(BY FEDERAL WIRELESS LINE TO THE TIMES.)

DENVER, March 21.—[Special Dispatch.] The chief of police refused today to interfere with a woman who takes money from her husband's pocket, and who has been charged with the theft of $1000 from the Cheyenne Police Department. The woman, Mrs. Donald, 27 years old, who is known as "the woman who took money," was arrested by City Detective O'Neill on a charge of larceny from a train at the Union Station.

"We had a quarrel Wednesday night and she took the money from me," she said. "I could not stand it any longer," said Mrs. Donald. She offered to exhibit bruises as further evidence. "He had been drinking when we went to sleep I arose, went through his pockets and got the money, and came to Denver."

After hearing her story, Chief O'Neill ordered the woman's release. The Donalds formerly lived in Denver.

EUGENE (Or.) March 21.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] W. N. Cobb of this city writes his wife from Sisters, Or., of a strange occurrence at the funeral of a cousin, the 4-year-old daughter of A. Oster, of that place. She had apparently died of smallpox and from fear of contagion burial was arranged for the same day.

The funeral procession was about to start for the cemetery when the parents and onlookers were startled to see the eyes of the child open. A physician was hurriedly sent for and the child was revived by the use of the method of resuscitation resorted to with the result that the child is now well on the road to recovery.

GAINS TIME BY DEMURRAL.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 21.—When the case of Dr. W. W. Fraser of Waverly, accused of having falsified a birth certificate for Mrs. Charles Raymond Singsby, was called today, the defense filed a demurrer. Fraser was accused of having falsified the certificate to cover up the alleged substitution of an infant for the still-born child of Mrs. Singsby in order that the Singsbys might produce an heir to a million-dollar English estate.

adoption in the Senate today. It is a union labor measure.

Senator Anderson of Santa Ana attacked the bill as "wholly unfeeling" and "undesirable." He had taken the matter up with the State Printer and that official agreed with him that the change is unfeeling for and admitted that it will load a burden of $7000 a year on the State. The State Printer also volunteered that the printers are satisfied with present conditions and did not ask for the change. Several Democratic Senators spoke against the bill, but Finn whipped his union labor henchmen from San Francisco into line and with the Los Angeles Senators, they approved the bill through by vote of 24 to 16.

WOMEN'S MINIMUM WAGE.

The members of the special committee appointed to investigate the social evil problem, declared their intention to support the most practical plan for a minimum wage that can be worked out. The committee has decided to take no action until after the hearing on the minimum wage called for next Tuesday evening.

Many Senators are in favor of the minimum wage law for women before the adjournment. Senator Oates, chairman of the committee, is heartily in favor of a minimum wage law for women. Gov. Johnson is said to be opposed to establishing a minimum wage at this session.

CAMINETTI BILL RECALLED.

Senator Caminetti's motion to reconsider the vote which yesterday defeated his bill giving to Governor and Assemblyman a clerk at $5 a day, met favorable action in the Senate today, all members favoring a hearing. Senator Boynton, Progressive leader, agreed that some plan should be devised to distribute the bill in the Senate.

The bill, as it came up, with one gulf all of the Assembly patronage, and makes broad on and would hamper the work of the State.

Accepted the suggestion of Boynton that he refrain from pressing further consideration of the bill, and he agreed to let it go back to the Judiciary Committee for amendment, which was done.

NEW TOMORROW'S BILL.

Miss E. C. Gary, secretary of the Automobile Club of Southern California, is here in the interests of Senator Finn's automobile bill.

Gary says the bill has the endorsement of the 7000 members of the club. It is modeled after the laws of the various States and countries of Europe, and is said to be the fairest and most satisfactory automobile law ever offered by any State.

Los Angeles is handling the measure in the lower house.

It provides that the State shall have the power to regulate the speed of automobiles on city and State roads, instead of the Supervisors or city officials.

The bill requires every automobile owner to register his machine at $3 per annum. Under the existing law, the autoist pays $2 upon registration, and it is good during the life of the machine.

Butchers Blame Wholesalers for the High Cost.

San Francisco Association Petitions Congress.

Free Importation of Outside Products.

BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.

SAN FRANCISCO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, March 21.—[Exclusive.] The Retail Butchers' Association of San Francisco and the Associated Butchers' Exchange have petitioned President Wilson and the California delegation in Congress asking for a revision of the tariff on meats and cattle imported from the United States.

The petition, signed by Robert W. Smith, president, and Louis Schneider, secretary, of the local body, and by W. R. Harris and H. S. Brantley, who hold the same positions in the county organization, requesting the high price of meats in this city be reduced by the removal of the tariff on outside products.

Our associations, after having made a careful and thorough investigation of the existing conditions, have concluded that only one wholesale butchery of this State is receiving the benefits accruing from prices which we find are exorbitant.

Although the margin of profit on which the retailer operates has been consistently narrowed, this unjust enrichment of the wholesaler is ultimately borne by the consumer.

"Information which we have secured from a reliable source indicates that the schedule of costs to retail dealers for meats which is available for importation from outside the State is less than that for meats produced in this State, with charges of freight, etc., on these countries to this State, including the considerable loss in the market price of meats demanded by our wholesalers, providing that all importations could be made free of duty."

SAN FRANCISCO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, March 21.—[Exclusive.] The Senate Committee on Public Lands held a special meeting this afternoon to hear the views of leading hotel men of the State on Senator Owens' bill allowing hotels in "dry" territory to sell liquor to bona-fide restaurants, and at the end of the hearing voted five to one against the bill.

Several hotel proprietors said they would be forced to go out of business unless the amendment proposed in the Owens bill was made to the local option act adopted two years ago. Attention was called to the growing tourist trade of the State and the need of providing for the wants of the visitors.

It was suggested by one of the members of the committee that the hotel men appeal directly to the people through the initiative for a modification of the liquor laws.

Likely to Become Premier Apple-Producing County, Says Secretary of State Jordan.

BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES. SACRAMENTO, March 21.—Del Norte county, situated in the extreme northwestern part of California, is destined one day to become one of the chief apple-producing regions of the State, declared Secretary of State Jordan, who has compiled data on the county for publication in the State Blue Book.

This county, says Jordan, is just beginning to realize how well its soil is adapted to apple culture, and, with the development of transportation facilities, this industry ought to grow to enormous proportions. Much fertile land awaits cultivation, as shown by the fact that, with a land area of 655,360 acres, Del Norte county in 1910 had taken up only 35,347 acres for farms. The value of all farm property was $1,870,222, representing an increase in ten years of $749,132, or 73.4 per cent.

The county is rich in undeveloped mineral resources.

SAN FRANCISCO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, March 21.—[Exclusive.] John Morris, a former cowboy and now a waterfront expressman, "came back" this morning as far as his ability with the lariat was concerned and saved the life of a demented Japanese who had jumped off the Clay-street wharf after a mad dash down Market street, pursued by an excited crowd of more than 100 men and boys. Incidentally, Morris demonstrated a new mode of lifesaving that might become popular along the waterfront were all of its habitués expert vaqueros.

The Japanese, Frank Kowizeni, was seen dashing wildly down Market street, shrieking and waving his arms. Men and boys started in pursuit. The fleeing Japanese zig-zagged through the busy throng of teams and pedestrians, and dashed in front of street cars and automobiles, with the excited pursuers close upon his heels.

CRAZED MAN LEAPS INTO BAY.

The chase led to the Ferry along the waterfront to Clay street wharf, where the crazed Japanese dove into the bay.

Morris was sitting on his wagon when Kowizeni jumped overboard. The tide was fast carrying him out and no one dared jump overboard. Morris grabbed a rope that lay in his wagon, quickly made it into a lariat, and swung it after the fast sinking man. He lassoed the Japanese by the neck just as he was sinking.

With the aid of others who had watched the performance, Morris pulled the would-be suicide back to the wharf and then lowered himself on the piling to lift him up. The Japanese was revived at the Harbor Emergency Hospital.

Sacramento Masters Testify that They Clean Up Fifty Per Cent. Profits and Deemed that Too Low.

BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES. SACRAMENTO, March 21.—[Exclusive.] That the members of the Master Painters' Association of Sacramento, on trial for conspiracy against trade, make at least a 50 per cent. profit by adhering to the price list which they have agreed upon, was the evidence given by witnesses at the trial now in progress.

P. L. Strick, W. W. Mott and R. S. Griswold, master painters, who were dismissed as defendants so that they could testify for the prosecution, gave testimony showing that they made a profit equivalent to that percentage if they based their bids on the price list, which some of the them contend is too low.

TO SPEND MONEY IN EACH COUNTY.

JOHNSON OUTLINES POLICY FOR STATE HIGHWAYS.

Governor Is Told Asphalt Would Make Roads Permanent, but He Prefers to Scatter Eighteen Million Dollars in Temporary Work and Patch Them Up.

BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES. SACRAMENTO, March 21.—Whether it is better policy to spread $18,000,000 over the entire system of State roads as proposed in the highway bonding act, or use it in the expensive improvement of only about half of the original mileage contemplated, was debated today in the office of Gov. Johnson between members of the State Highway Commission and representative contractors from all over the State, who recently aimed a serious criticism against the manner in which the roads are being constructed.

DEFENDS THE WORK.

A. B. Fletcher, chief engineer of the commission, denied the roads he is building will wear out in six months, as charged by the contractors, but admitted that asphalt would be better if the State could afford to pay $12,000 instead of $800 per mile.

Gov. Johnson held it was better to render some service to every county rather than give a few communities high-priced roads and leave the others with nothing.

It is a question of policy over which we have spent much time," he told the contractors.

TO DISTRIBUTE FUNDS.

"If we build the type of roads you suggest we cannot complete the highway system."

It is our purpose to do something, and as much as we can with the money, for every county in California.

"We are building now and will continue to build the best roads we can get for the money."

ENEMY OF RACE CONVICTED.

Sacramento Physician Trapped by Federal Authorities With Deceit Letter—Found Guilty Missing Mails.

BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES. SAN FRANCISCO, March 21.—Dr. Louis Lampert, a physician of Sacramento, was convicted today in the Federal Court on two counts of having used the mails to promote race suicide. He will be sentenced Monday.

Dr. Lampert, who conducted a sanitarium in Sacramento, was arrested last November with 171 other practitioners, throughout the country. Dr. Lampert was trapped by means of deceit letters and personal interviews.

Dr. Walter Blackburn, of Petaluma, Osgood Brothers, druggists, of Oakland, and Mrs. W. I. Trojan, a physician, of this city, have pleaded guilty on similar charges.

Dr. Jordan will visit the Balkan states and view the result of the present war.

TWO AUTO PARTIES WRECKED.

Three dying in One Case, Woman Killed in Other—Broker Arrested for Manslaughter.

BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES. SAN FRANCISCO, March 21.—Frank Enig, h's wife, and their companion Miss Maynard Dean, are at the point of death today from injuries they received last night when their automobile collided with an interurban car between Santa Clara and San Jose.

Enig, who is a candidate for Town Clerk of Santa Clara, was driving. His automobile struck the car with such force that the latter was jarred from the rails. Both he and his wife have fractured skulls, and Miss Dean has severe head wounds.

In another automobile accident last night, Lulu Adams, one of a party of joy riders, was killed when the car ran into a telegraph pole. James McElroy, an insurance broker, who drove the car, was arrested on a charge of manslaughter.

One Catalogue That Is Different

Cadillac

If you have studied motor cars from catalogues you cannot but have noticed the great similarity of these catalogues. You have probably come to the conclusion that they are all alike. But there is one that is decidedly different. One that tells a motor story well worth the telling. In the past you may have wondered at the great success of the Cadillac. A glance into the Cadillac catalogue may let you into some of the secrets.

THE WONDERFUL MOTOR

The Cadillac motor has features found in no other cars. The cylinders and pistons fit to the thousandth part of an inch. The copper water jackets provide a perfect cooling system. There are four hundred operations in the Cadillac car not permitted to vary more than a thousandth part of an inch. All of these features and many more are set forth in the Cadillac catalogue. If you are in any way interested in motoring you will find much to interest you in the Cadillac catalogue.

That The Times has a productive circulation, due to being read more extensively than any other Los Angeles newspaper, is demonstrated by the fact that it regularly prints approximately four million lines of advertising a year more than any other newspaper in the world, and twice as many legitimate "advertisements as any of its local competitors.

Advertising record, 1912, 18,479,300 lines.

The Times advertisements get quicker and better results, and are more obtainable to advertisers, than those of any other American newspaper.

In their Mould is Our Success Cast

The Franciscan Friars virtually discovered the San Fernando Valley. They defended it; they reared their buildings upon it; they tilled its soil; they demonstrated that it would grow olives; they produced grain and fruits, vegetables and other products. They blazed the trail; paved the way; made the mould.

They must have dreamed of the day when this sun-kissed land would yield up its wealth of golden treasures to the children of men.

Today, across the Valley they loved, the iron horse speeds, electric trains whizz, automobiles whirr and wagons creak with the increase of this fat land.

The sun has lost none of its life-giving power; the breezes, none of their ozone-bearing properties; the soil none of its vitality.

To these, have been added transportation, market, boulevards, telephones, electric lights, cities, acres of orchards, thousands of industrious people, schools, churches, and, in brief, Civilization, in all of its phases.

Truly, the VAN NUYS-LANKERSHIM LANDS offer all that man could want,—To make him HAPPY, COMFORTABLE, SATISFIED AND RICH.

Any size tract you want—even to 10,000 acres.

BLACK HAND ON EASTER LILIES.

Scarcity of Beautiful Blooms for Decking Altars.

Fine Organ and Chimes to Be Dedicated Monday.

Seventh Federation Birthday Celebration Tomorrow.

For the first time in many years an unusual situation has arisen in connection with the customary phenomenal elaboration of Easter decorations in the churches.

You do not hear any fair Angeles chirping about thousands of Easter lilies, nor cartloads of callas, nor how the altar of her favorite church will gleam in its snowy sheen of blooms tomorrow morning.

In fact there is a peculiar disposition, only twenty-four hours before the decorations must all be in place, to plead ignorance of what they are to be as well as to cause of the uncertainty. Jack Frost laid his black hand heavily upon them and where on former seasons there have been positively wagonloads of callas there are none today. In the households there are a good many, but the great outdoor conservatories, the hope of the church of small means, the joy of the meek and lowly, though poor—has been swept from the landscape for the first time in a generation.

One decorator blandly informed the inquirer that the church blossoms will be used this year, and really couldn't recall whether or not anything had been said about the scarcity of lilies. The result is that a number of unique decorations as each one will be compelled to devise a new scheme from the many other kinds of blossoms that can be found in greater or less abundance, but even these are not available in the unmeasured profusion of other years. The music program, however, has not been frost-bitten and will be given in most of the churches with special elaboration, though the old Easter classics have so completely filled the niche that new offerings are rare.

FINE NEW CHURCH. ORGAN DEDICATION MONDAY.
The magnificent new Gothic church, just completed at No. 738 West Seventeenth street, by the congregation of Trinity German Lutheran Church is one of the most churchly edifices in the city.

It has been built at a cost of $65,000, of red brick with granite trimmings. The spire, which is 152 feet high, is surmounted by an electric cross which may be seen from all directions. It has a parquetry floor, plastered walls and a ceiling of rich and artistic light with Austrian prismatic electric lights, making an unusually handsome illumination. The church was built from the proceeds of the sale of the old property of the congregation at Eighth and Figueroa streets, entirely paid for and a comfortable balance is left in the treasury. The pipe organ is a splendid instrument with chimera of fine quality, installed at a cost of $7500.

Tomorrow morning the pastor, Rev. A. E. Michel, will preach a sermon in German, from the text, "Christ the Lord is Risen," the evening service will be in English, when the pastor will preach on "The Resurrection of Christ." Since He is Risen from the Dead.

An organ recital will be given on Monday night, which will be a formal dedication of the instrument, by Prof. F. H. Hoeller of San Francisco, assisted by Prof. G. F. Bates and a choir of thirty voices, and Rev. G. H. Smul, violin soloist. The public is invited.

THEY ARE SEVEN.

BIRTHDAY OF FEDERATION.
A great mass meeting will be held in the First Methodist Church Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock to celebrate the seventh anniversary of the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America. Its president, Dr. Shailer Mathews, one of the prominent figures in American Christianity, will be the speaker, who will take for his subject "The Call of a Universal Task to Protestantism."

Rev. E. P. Ryland will preside; the Scripture will be read by Rev. E. A. Campbell; the opening prayer will be by Rev. Russell F. Thrapp and Miss Annie Row will sing "There is a Land."

President Ryland of the local federation will deliver an address and the several committees will report, after which the speaker of the day will be introduced by Dr. J. Whitcomb Brougher. Sunday morning Dr. Mathews will preach in Temple Auditorium and in the evening in the First Baptist Church.

HE IS RISEN INDEED.

GLAD EASTER CELEBRATIONS.
Christ Episcopal Church, Rev. Barker P. Lee, rector, will begin its Easter services with a celebration of the Holy Communion at 7:30 a.m., at which the choir will sing Guilford's "Choral Communion," at 11 o'clock there will be a second celebration of the communion with a sermon by the rector on the topic, "The World's Greatest Dynamic," and a repetition of the musical program of the earlier service, with additional selections. In the evening the junior choir of sixty voices will sing "The New Life," and the rector will deliver an address.

At the Hollywood Christian Church the pastor, Rev. Lloyd Darke, will take for his topic tomorrow morning "The Woman at the Sepulchre," in the evening "The Life Beyond." The choir is composed of Mrs. D. Wills, soprano; Miss Whona A. Osborn, contralto; Edwin A. Hulse, tenor; Frank E. Gelfer, bass; Sibley G. Pease, organist.

St. John's Episcopal Church, choral communion will be sung by the auxiliary choir at 7 a.m.; full choral communion at 11 a.m., with a musical setting of special canticles. A special children's service at 4:30, at which the women will sing.

Trinity German Evangelical Lutheran Church.

This church, just completed at a cost of $65,000, on West Seventeenth street, is constructed of red brick with granite trimmings and is a stately structure.

which Rev. R. B. Gooden will tell Easter stories. Mr. Gooden will officiate at all the services of the day.

The oratorio of "Emmanuel" will be given in the University Methodist Church on Sunday night under the leadership of Horatio Cogswell. In the morning Dr. Goodeninger will preach an Easter sermon.

Dean Shailer Mathews of the University of Chicago will preach in Temple Auditorium tomorrow morning on "The Power of an Endless Life." In the evening Dr. Brougher will take for his subject, "After Death, What?" The music at both these services will be particularly elaborate. The ordinance of baptism will be administered to about thirty candidates at the morning service.

"The Easter Christ the Universal King" will be the morning subject of Dr. Charles Edward Locke of the First Methodist Church in the morning. In the evening Dr. Michel will preach on "The Resurrection of Christ." Since He is Risen from the Dead.

At the Hollywood First Methodist Church a chorus of fifty voices under the direction of Mrs. A. H. Bates will present the cantata, "Christ the Victor," at the evening service. In the morning the new pipe organ will be dedicated and the Easter sermon will be preached by Rev. E. P. Ryland. Excellent musical programs will characterize both services.

Dr. William D. Carter will preach in Immanuel Presbyterian Church tomorrow morning on the subject, "He is Risen." In the evening "The Man for the Hour and the Hour for the Man."

"Daybreak of Immortality" will be the subject of Rev. W. D. Landis in the Westlake Presbyterian Church in the morning. There will be a program of the Easter music in the evening and in the evening the service will consist of a sacred concert of high character.

At Central Baptist Church Easter services will be held in the morning and also in the evening. Dr. James W. Kramer preaching at both. At 10 o'clock in the afternoon Dr. Kramer, who is a Knight Templar, will preach to the members of the order who will attend in a body, and it is thought 500 men will be in line. They will march from Masonic Temple, led by a band.

Dr. Herbert J. Weaver will take for his morning subject at the First English Lutheran Church "The Angel's Easter Message," and there will be a program of special music by the choir, with Miss Norine Friedlein and Prof. Earl Houk as soloists. At 7 o'clock in the evening the Sunday school will render an Easter service entitled "Songs of Victory."

A special Easter musical service will be given at the Y.W.C.A. at 4 o'clock in the afternoon, the program to be as follows:

LESSON: Genesis xiv.
GOLDEN TEXT: Proverbs iii, 4.
"In all thy ways acknowledge him, and he shall direct thy path."

(1) And Abraham was old, and well stricken in age; and the Lord had blessed Abraham in all things. (2) And Abraham said unto his servant, the elder of his house, that ruled over all that he had, saying, I will die; and thou shalt be a father of many sons; and thou shalt not take a wife for my son of the daughters of the Canaanites; among whom I dwell; (3) but thou shalt go unto my country, and shalt bury me in my father's sepulchre; and thou shalt take a wife for my son of the daughters of my father's house. (4) And the servant said unto him, Peradventure the woman will not be willing to follow me into this land; must I bring her thence again unto the land from whence thou camest? (5) And Abraham said unto him, Beware thou that thou bring not thy son thence; for he is a Canaanite; (6) and thou shalt take a wife for my son of the daughters of my father's house. (7) And the servant said unto him, As thou hast said, I will do as thou sayest. (8) And Abraham said unto his servant, I will give thee my gold, and my silver, and all that I have; and thou shalt take a wife for my son of the daughters of my father's house. (9) And the servant said unto him, As thou hast said, I will do as thou sayest. (10) And Abraham said unto his servant, I will give thee my gold, and my silver, and all that I have; and thou shalt take a wife for my son of the daughters of my father's house. (11) And the servant said unto him, As thou hast said, I will do as thou sayest. (12) And Abraham said unto his servant, I will give thee my gold, and my silver, and all that I have; and thou shalt take a wife for my son of the daughters of my father's house. (13) And the servant said unto him, As thou hast said, I will do as thou sayest. (14) And Abraham said unto his servant, I will give thee my gold, and my silver, and all that I have; and thou shalt take a wife for my son of the daughters of my father's house. (15) And the servant said unto him, As thou hast said, I will do as thou sayest. (16) And Abraham said unto his servant, I will give thee my gold, and my silver, and all that I have; and thou shalt take a wife for my son of the daughters of my father's house. (17) And the servant said unto him, As thou hast said, I will do as thou sayest. (18) And Abraham said unto his servant, I will give thee my gold, and my silver, and all that I have; and thou shalt take a wife for my son of the daughters of my father's house. (19) And the servant said unto him, As thou hast said, I will do as thou sayest. (20) And Abraham said unto his servant, I will give thee my gold, and my silver, and all that I have; and thou shalt take a wife for my son of the daughters of my father's house. (21) And the servant said unto him, As thou hast said, I will do as thou sayest. (22) And Abraham said unto his servant, I will give thee my gold, and my silver, and all that I have; and thou shalt take a wife for my son of the daughters of my father's house. (23) And the servant said unto him, As thou hast said, I will do as thou sayest. (24) And Abraham said unto his servant, I will give thee my gold, and my silver, and all that I have; and thou shalt take a wife for my son of the daughters of my father's house. (25) And the servant said unto him, As thou hast said, I will do as thou sayest. (26) And Abraham said unto his servant, I will give thee my gold, and my silver, and all that I have; and thou shalt take a wife for my son of the daughters of my father's house. (27) And the servant said unto him, As thou hast said, I will do as thou sayest. (28) And Abraham said unto his servant, I will give thee my gold, and my silver, and all that I have; and thou shalt take a wife for my son of the daughters of my father's house. (29) And the servant said unto him, As thou hast said, I will do as thou sayest. (30) And Abraham said unto his servant, I will give thee my gold, and my silver, and all that I have; and thou shalt take a wife for my son of the daughters of my father's house. (31) And the servant said unto him, As thou hast said, I will do as thou sayest. (32) And Abraham said unto his servant, I will give thee my gold, and my silver, and all that I have; and thou shalt take a wife for my son of the daughters of my father's house. (33) And the servant said unto him, As thou hast said, I will do as thou sayest. (34) And Abraham said unto his servant, I will give thee my gold, and my silver, and all that I have; and thou shalt take a wife for my son of the daughters of my father's house. (35) And the servant said unto him, As thou hast said, I will do as thou sayest. (36) And Abraham said unto his servant, I will give thee my gold, and my silver, and all that I have; and thou shalt take a wife for my son of the daughters of my father's house. (37) And the servant said unto him, As thou hast said, I will do as thou sayest. (38) And Abraham said unto his servant, I will give thee my gold, and my silver, and all that I have; and thou shalt take a wife for my son of the daughters of my father's house. (39) And the servant said unto him, As thou hast said, I will do as thou sayest. (40) And Abraham said unto his servant, I will give thee my gold, and my silver, and all that I have; and thou shalt take a wife for my son of the daughters of my father's house. (41) And the servant said unto him, As thou hast said, I will do as thou sayest. (42) And Abraham said unto his servant, I will give thee my gold, and my silver, and all that I have; and thou shalt take a wife for my son of the daughters of my father's house. (43) And the servant said unto him, As thou hast said, I will do as thou sayest. (44) And Abraham said unto his servant, I will give thee my gold, and my silver, and all that I have; and thou shalt take a wife for my son of the daughters of my father's house. (45) And the servant said unto him, As thou hast said, I will do as thou sayest. (46) And Abraham said unto his servant, I will give thee my gold, and my silver, and all that I have; and thou shalt take a wife for my son of the daughters of my father's house. (47) And the servant said unto him, As thou hast said, I will do as thou sayest. (48) And Abraham said unto his servant, I will give thee my gold, and my silver, and all that I have; and thou shalt take a wife for my son of the daughters of my father's house. Bring Your Family Wash to the 3C Laundry.

3C Laundry Counter

EVERY 3 C laundry store is a bargain counter—and Friday and Saturday of every week are special price-smashing 3C days. On these days, from Friday noon to Saturday 2 P.M., we strike off from 25 per cent. to 33 1/3 per cent. of every price on our regular list—and our REGULAR prices are already a quarter lower than those charged by any other laundry in Los Angeles. We make these sensationally low rates primarily to induce a trial from those now unfamiliar with 3C service; incidentally to keep our plant busy on ordinary slack days. Here is the list of

THE WILL OF GOD.

of faith. Wherever a man acknowledges Him, He responds. Let Abraham and Rebekah, the daughter of Isaac, be united in their union they both acted upon the principle of faith; Isaac in his consent to the method adopted by his father and Rebekah in the venture she made as she turned her back upon her father's house, and went to the new land to found in the future the nation which were living on the principle of faith in God. This should never be lost sight of in any consideration either of the life of Abraham or of the life of Rebekah. He who would live quiet and meditative life, lacking much of the force of character of his father, but on more than one occasion
we have the clearest evidence of the strength of his faith. Whatever there may have been of human cleverness
and scheming in Rebekah, as subsequent years manifestly showed, her faith was distinctly a venture of faith, for the principles and practices of the life of Abraham and Isaac have well known to his blood relations.

The Teaching.

The whole story is full of western color, and has in it much of beauty.
Its main value is that of its revelation of the abiding necessity for loyalty to the principle of faith. Faith is not for the great crises of life alone.
It is alike necessary for the ordinary and commonplace experiences. It must be the active principle in all enterprises and choices. Indeed, in the life of faith every smallest event is in some sense a crisis, leading on to other things. Every link in the chain is important. If in any matter, however apparently trivial there be a choice, let the seed of promise be sown from faith, then the whole set
and current of the years is changed.
No hour arrives in the life of the faithful which is not a choice, and who are yielded to God, when what is a sufficient ground upon which to take action.

While all this is true, this story also reminds us that faith is rational.
Whereas arrangements and choices must be made upon the principle of faith, faith demands that there shall be arrangement, and that there shall be choice. It compels thought and consideration. That is not faith which allows itself to drift, or blindly trusting to some choice, hopes they may turn out well. Faith discerns
the true line of action, and carefully guards against the possibility of wandering from it. Faith demands that the life of the companion shall not be chosen from a corrupt race and insisted upon it that the seed of promise abide on the land of promise. Thus faith guards against two wrong principles of action; that of arranging according to sight and human calculation, and that of falling to make use of the gift of reason which God has bestowed upon men.

crystallizing the main value of this story. It first declares the true con-declaration in itself being an explana-

Him." The acknowledgment of God in all the ways of life, and the acknowledgment of Him, that is faith; but it also means the reasonable action of adjusting all the activities of life to that belief. God is not a human calculation merely by the intellectual conviction of His existence and government, but by life submitted to that government.
And thus His will is not a human in its second part this declaration affirms the divine side of the cov-

edges Him, He responds. Let Abraham and Rebekah, the daughter of Isaac, be united in their union
they both acted upon the principle of faith; Isaac in his consent to the method adopted by his father and Rebekah in the venture she made as she turned her back upon her father's house, and went to the new land to found in the future the nation which were living on the principle of faith in God. This should never be lost sight of in any consideration either of the life of Abraham or of the life of Rebekah. He who would live
quiet and meditative life, lacking
much of the force of character of his father, but on more than one occasion
we have the clearest evidence of the strength of his faith. Whatever there may have been of human cleverness
and scheming in Rebekah, as subsequent years manifestly showed, her faith was distinctly a venture of faith, for the principles and practices of the life of Abraham and Isaac have
well known to his blood relations.

The Teaching.

The whole story is full of western color, and has in it much of beauty.
Its main value is that of its revelation of the abiding necessity for loyalty to the principle of faith. Faith is not for the great crises of life alone.
It is alike necessary for the ordinary and commonplace experiences. It must be the active principle in all enterprises and choices. Indeed, in the life of faith every smallest event is in some sense a crisis, leading on to other things. Every link in the chain is important. If in any matter, however apparently trivial there be a choice, let the seed of promise
be sown from faith, then the whole set
and current of the years is changed.
No hour arrives in the life of the faithful which is not a choice, and who are yielded to God, when what is a sufficient ground upon which to take action.

While all this is true, this story also reminds us that faith is rational.
Whereas arrangements and choices
must be made upon the principle of faith, faith demands that there shall be arrangement, and that there shall be choice. It compels thought and consideration. That is not faith which allows itself to drift, or blindly trusting to some choice, hopes they may turn out well. Faith discerns
the true line of action, and carefully guards against the possibility

SUGAR FIGURES FOR CONGRESS

PACIFIC SLOPE ASSOCIATION FIGHTS FOR TARIFF.

Is Preparing Table to Send to Washington by Which It Is Hoped to Obtain Legislation Favorable to Best Interests of California—Continued Here.

Determined if possible to prove the injury that will come from the removal of tariff on sugar, members of the Pacific Slope Beet Sugar Association met yesterday at the Alameda, to assist in the compilation of statistics which will be sent to Washington to demonstrate the possibility of an industry yielding millions to the farmers, the shippers and the manufacturers being entirely destroyed by hasty action.

"No State will suffer more than California if the duty is entirely removed," said John L. Howard, president of the Union and Alameda sugar factory at Alameda. "The sugar loss would be incalculable if the duty were taken off, but it would run into millions of dollars if the factories were closed, as that would mean discontinuance of planting thousands of acres to beet and would deprive the farmer of his great revenue."

In order to make a comprehensive and correct report on all of these things when the matter is placed before Congress, the association members are preparing a concise, comprehensive table of authentic figures. Other matters of technical interest were discussed.

The value of a beet sugar factory to a community was discussed at length, bringing out the relation of such an enterprise to a district. The increase in the value of land, the increase in land rentals, the value of a heavier pay-roll in a community, growing bank clearings and other interesting phases of the situation were developed. Questions of mechanical appliances used in factories, the matter of getting full value of waste waters, and other subjects were discussed in papers by members.

The meeting was presided over by W. H. Hannan, vice-president, at San Francisco. Robert Oxnard, secretary, San Francisco. About 100 sugar men attended. The convention will not be adjourned until Wednesday, although some of the time will be given over to visit beet sugar plants.

WALLS ECHO DEFIANT CHARTER BATTLE CRY.

Citizens' Committee Couches a Thousand Lances for the Fray.

Blanchard Hall's Timbers Shake and Windows Rattle to Roar of Voters Roused to Danger of Socialists' Effort to Seize City at Monday's Election—Chamber of Commerce Resolution Hotly Condemned.

Not satisfied with the clapping of hands, men and women stood on their feet and shouted as point after point was scored by the speakers of the occasion.

The chief feature of the meeting was a bold attack upon the action of the Board of Directors of the Chamber of Commerce, which passed resolutions yesterday recommending the citizens of Los Angeles to vote against the charter amendment for the election of the members of the Harbor Commission directly by the people.

This action was taken by the directors after receiving a report of six members of the Harbor Committee. Their recommendation they based on three considerations. One is that "the proposed amendment confers upon the Harbor Commissioners jurisdiction over the entire territory within the limits of the cities of Wilmington and San Pedro as they existed at the time of their annexation;" another that "the proposed amendment would permit the Board of Harbor Commissioners to dispose of the franchise on the front and to make leases of one-half of the tide lands outside of the Huntington concession for forty years with no power in the people to nullify such leases;" and the third was that "the proposed amendment would allow the lease of one-half of the tide lands for any purpose without reference to its connection with public use of the harbor."

STORM OF PROTEST. The whole meeting yesterday centered in a storm of protest against the action taken by the chamber. This protest was given double strength by the fact that the meeting was presided over by Phil Stanton, and was addressed by John T. Gaffey, a member of the Chamber of Commerce Harbor Committee. The resolution was vigorously condemned and a hot counter-resolution was adopted. It appears below.

The resolution was elaborated at length by speeches in which the sentiments expressed veered dangerously toward the personal. The names appearing on the committee report on which the Chamber of Commerce directors based their action are F. W. Braun, Frank P. J. A. Anderson, T. E. Gibbon, F. Q. Story and R. W. Burnham. It was stated yesterday afternoon by Gaffey that the opposition to such action was given no chance whatever and that the action was inspired by what he declared to be the fact that the jobbers are as much interested as the railroads in not having the harbor completed. The completion of the harbor, Gaffey said, means the right of the retail merchant to drive his auto trucks out on the docks and so save the people the expense of the middleman. He charged that neither the railroads nor the jobbers want this to happen and they want the old system of having a harbor board appointed and not elected continued so that nobody can be held responsible.

H. S. McCallum was directly personal in accounting for the action. He charged that Anderson was mistaken in the tide land suit protected and that he is the personal attorney of E. T. Earl. He charged that T. E. Gibbon is a former member of the commission and has been promised his reappointment with a salary attached. He concluded with the declaration that every director of the Chamber of Commerce whom he had interviewed had said that he opposed the election of the Harbor Commission by the people because it would take the management of the harbor out of the hands of the chamber.

DANGEROUS ALTERNATIVE. Other speeches followed in the same vein. Frank P. Doherty said that the Citizens' Committee could never have exposed the combination as well as they have exposed themselves. "The public will now realize that Amendment No. 9, which is the alternative of No. 16, reiterates every present blunder and adds other objectionable features to the present intolerable plan," he said.

Other speakers were William J. Varley, Byron Erkenbrecht, Miles Gregory, Thomas K. Kane, Mrs. Charles P. Huey, Mrs. Clara Shortridge Foltz and Mrs. W. C. Tyler. The QUICK TO SEE NEED OF A NEW DEAL AT SAN PEDRO.

Educational Trippers Urge Citizens' Amendments Eleven to Eighteen Upon Their Fellow-Voters—Charter Matinee Today for Further Discussion.

That the trip was a revelation to the women and will result in a better understanding of the need of adopting proposed Amendment No. 16 is found in the expression of the guests:

Mrs. Lorin Handley: I certainly never realized what the harbor meant until today and how necessary it is to carry the Citizens' Amendments on Monday.

Mrs. Edmund E. Smith: After seeing the conditions I learned how to vote the right way—for amendments from eleven to eighteen, inclusive.

Mrs. Edward Sherrer: After hearing the speeches and seeing for myself, I am convinced there is only one way to vote, i.e., for amendments from eleven to eighteen, inclusive.

Mrs. J. B. Lytle: How can any man or woman who has any other than a mercenary motive do anything but vote for these amendments for the greatest harbor in the world.

Mrs. E. Barker: I viewed the work today with deep regret that the city's work at the harbor is so far behind after the vast amount of money that has been spent.

Mrs. E. R. Odell: It is a pity that all the women in Los Angeles could not have been here.

POINTED RESOLUTION CONCERNING HARBOR.

The following resolution, condemnatory and enlightening, was offered by H. S. McCallum and adopted yesterday:

Resolved, that we, the Citizens' Committee of One Thousand, in meeting assembled, do hereby condemn the attempt of the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce and the Los Angeles Jobbers' Association to defeat harbor amendment No. 16 on the ballot, which is the product of this committee, on the ground that such an attempt is uncalled for, unjust and against the best interests of the people of this city, and in the interests of the dual control of the harbor, and that it perpetuates the present railroad monopoly at the port.

And, that we protest against the agreement made by the Jobbers' Association whereby it is attempted to raise the rate on lumber, which continues 90 per cent. of the total tonnage coming into Los Angeles harbor, 1 cent per hundred pounds, and 1 cent per hundred pounds on cement, and 1/2 cents per hundred pounds on plaster, in return for concessions to the jobbers which will be of no benefit to the general public.

And, we protest against any conference between the jobbers, the railroads and the Harbor Commission for the purpose of fixing or compromising rates behind closed doors.

Joy for Motorists.

FURTHER DROP IN GASOLINE.

FALLING OFF OF ONE CENT IS ANNOUNCED.

Increasing Light Oil Production and Growth of Gasoline from Gas-Making Industry Still Appear to Be Principal Causes—Rate War Is Rumored.

The motorists will undoubtedly derive much joy from the announcement of a further decline of one cent in the price of gasoline. This decline follows predictions recently made in The Times, the basis of which was the increase in the production of light oil in the State and the expansion of the manufacture of gasoline from gas. Rumors are still in the air that the oil development in both these lines has resulted in a tentative rate war in Los Angeles.

The fact remains, however, that gasoline prices have been on the down grade for several months now, and if the development of facilities for the manufacture continues at the present rate, still lower prices are not unlikely.

The Union Oil Company is working on a big gasoline field, from which it is estimated will turn out something like 10,000 gallons a day of high-grade stuff when the present plants are carried out to full extent. A plant capable of handling 8,000,000 cubic feet of gas will first be built, and it is figured that the output from this will be about 100,000 gallons a day. This will afterward be followed by a plant of like proportions. About five or six plants are already in operation in the Santa Maria field.

In Brea Canyon there is a plant which is estimated to produce about 100,000 gallons of high-grade gasoline from gas per month. This product is mixed with a large quantity of lower grade distillate to reduce it to a suitable gravity for use in motor vehicles, etc. It is said. Thus the quantity of commercial gasoline obtained from the plant is considerably larger than the figures above would indicate.

Aside from the development of the gasoline from gas, the manufacture of the steadily-increasing demand for light products. This, added to the big increase in the production of the light oil fields like Belridge, Lost Hills and Ventura, as well as the new high-grade wells in many of the oil fields, like Midway and Fullerton, has contributed to increasing the output of the refining plants.

California's consumption of gasoline is of considerable proportions, owing to the great number of motor-driven vehicles, pumping plants, etc. Some late estimates are that there is about one automobile to every thirty to thirty-five persons in the State. The consumption of the product in Los Angeles alone is sometimes figured at about 50,000 gallons a day, although any attempt to estimate the consumption accurately is regarded as difficult, if not impossible.

Beside the decline in gasoline there has also been a falling off in the prices of engine distillate and naphtha.

JOB GETS A NEW JOB.

Takes Active Part in Defending Financial Statements.

After an all-day examination of Joshua E. Youtz, vice-president and secretary of the Merchants' and Insurers' Reporting Company, who is charged by the District Attorney with making false statements concerning the financial condition of the concern, Justice Reeves continued the preliminary until Friday.

Job Harriman was added to the counsel for the defense yesterday and he took an active part in the cross-examination of the State's witnesses. During the afternoon recess, Post-office Inspector Ranger made a demand upon the attorneys for Youtz for the corporation books and papers. They refused. He stated he would secure a subpoena from the United States District Court, intimating that an investigation of the company is under way by the Federal grand jury.

W. C. Muehle, an expert accountant who audited the books of the Merchants' and Insurers' Company, was the main witness for the prosecution. He testified he found a variance between the book entries and statements contained in a booklet issued by the company.

HIS OWN BEST BOOSTER.

Clever Trick of Alleged Bogus Check Artist Nets Considerable Sum, Says Accuser.

Letters written by himself in which he gave himself the highest recommendations, and bogus telegrams delivered by messenger boy hired for that purpose, are the means Calvin Kelsey Whittington, an expert account, used to induce A. J. Warren to cash three checks aggregating $150 which were returned from a Philadelphia bank marked "No funds." Warren is the Pacific Coast manager of the Chapman Valve Manufacturing Company, No. 79 First street, San Francisco. Whittington was arrested yesterday at Alhambra by Detective Carroll and McCann, assisted by Warren.

Whittington and Warren met on a steamer out of Portland en route to San Francisco. They secured connecting rooms at the same hotel. Whittington's mail consisted chiefly of and uninviting. "Hot cross buns when properly made are delicious," she observed as she deftly mixed the dough with a pastry knife.

"Oh, Mrs. Ginger—excuse me, but there's something—in that dough—some foreign substance. I mean—it looks like—like a great lump of—of dirt," called out a young woman in the front row as she hastily stepped forward to the platform to show the cook lady the "foreign substance" which showed a dark spot in the dough.

The cook lady kept right on mixing the dough, perfectly unconcerned, and there was a roar of laughter as the inquisitive young woman discovered that the "dark substance" was a harmless raisin—purposely put there, along with several others, by the cook lady. The young woman went back and sat down considerably chagrined at her blunder.

self-indicted letters of good character, which he showed to Warren.

When the first Whittington check that Warren had cashed was returned, Whittington appeared to grow very indignant, and in a heated passion rushed to the telephone office to send the bank officials a message demanding an explanation. Several hours later a messenger boy delivered a telegram purporting to come from the bank apologizing profusely for its mistake, and redeeming Whittington's check. On the strength of that telegram Warren cashed another check for Whittington. Soon thereafter Whittington disappeared. Warren came here on business. He was a large, portly man, street. The detectives traced him to Alhambra, where he was expecting a set of books. Whittington will be taken to San Francisco for prosecution, Warren said.

Department of Commerce Official Predicts Great Things for Los Angeles in Business.

With maps of Los Angeles harbor and several of the newer industrial centers in his grip, together with much data on the Chamber of Commerce and our local manufacturers, George W. Doonan, commercial agent of the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce of the Department of Commerce, left last night for a farming country at our back, the future of which he was to discuss. "I didn't get down to the harbor," stated Doonan yesterday, "consequently I am carrying a map along to familiarize myself with the general layout. It may be that I will get a chance to get down there Sunday on my return."

Doonan further stated that he was surprised at the diversification of industry in this city, and that it seemed to him that with a deep-water harbor at our door, the future should see some wonderful industrial development.

Father Takes Them Away With Woman's Pitiful Savings—She Refuses Operation Fearing She Will Never Fondle Kiddies Again—Now It May Be Too Late.

Mrs. Patrick J. Conaty, 35 years old, who lived at No. 626 West Forty-sixth street, is weeping and pining her life away at the County Hospital for her two little girls, Veronica, 4 years old, and Mary, 3 years of age, of whom she lost when her husband dropped out of sight five weeks ago after having overdrawn her bank account. A warrant has been issued for Conaty's arrest.

Conaty is a marine engineer. Christmas week he lost his position with the Woolner Oil Company. Mrs. Conaty, to support the family, secured a position as a cook. When she was removed to the County Hospital in February suffering from typhoid fever she had $100 in the bank.

Conaty told his wife, she says, that he had placed the girls with a private family in Glendale. Under his pretext that he would only draw a few dollars at a time from the bank, Mrs. Conaty said yesterday she gave her husband three blank checks. These he filled in for an amount much in excess of her savings. When the checks were received by the bank and the official ascertained Mrs. Conaty's condition, they absolved her of responsibility and placed the matter in Detective Harris's hands.

Several days ago Mrs. Conaty's condition became such that the physicians decided an operation necessary. The woman refused. She feared she might not recover and then she would never see her babies again.

Since then Mrs. Conaty's condition has become operable, but it is impossible. The physicians say the shock would kill her. The woman's only hope now is a return of her babies, and the police have been asked to locate Conaty.

Conaty was charged with kidnapping had checks. Under the extradition treaties between the United States and Canada there is no provision for the return of persons charged with violation of the Federal statutes alleging an illegal use of the mails, but it is believed that he can be reached by the State new.

Cullen was charged, with Morgan, with writing letters to Miss Anna E. Durkee and Miss Mary T. Elmer, both of this city, and George A. Greene of Alhambra, with the object of securing $1000 from each for what was represented to be a garnet mine, located in the Wrangell mining district, on the Stikine River, Alaska.

At the time of the investigation of this matter, it was charged by the government that the Misses Durkee and Elmer were the real owners of the property, and the accused were alleged to have made the attempt to dispose of the mine to them.

She Showed 'Em Just How. After the buns were molded and shaped and crossed, they were put in the warming oven to rise and then Mrs. Halfner-Ginger made the sponge for them so that her audience could see just how it was done, the sponge she used having been prepared previously so that it was all ready to mold into dough when the demonstration began.

Later, when the buns had risen they were baked and buttered and eaten and everyone was enthusiastic over the delicious things and more than one woman declared she would make a batch for herself today to be ready Easter Sunday.

Bath Buns.

"How many know about bath buns?" asked the cook lady. Not a soul in the audience apparently had ever heard of these damp-sounding buns.

not have gone on the trip to the harbor.

Mrs. L. M. Parker, formerly of Kentucky, now of Washington, D. C.: "I am grieving because I cannot vote on the matter presented to this time. I have been abroad and to the Orient but nowhere have I seen the opportunities that are presented to the Los Angeles women. They should be wonderfully proud of the port they could make if they choose to do so. I have a large grapefruit and pecan farm in Tampa, Fla., which I intend to dispose of and transfer my interests here to Los Angeles."

Mrs. E. C. Warden: "The future of our city demands business-like development of our harbor resources. I am commending to the city charter amendment which will result in the best development of the harbor."

Mrs. M. A. Spring: "Every woman should rally to the support of the Citizens' campaign harbor amendment. Other women who spoke enthusiastically commended the harbor amendment were Mrs. C. E. Stewart, Mrs. Martha Moore, Mrs. Frank C. Newbauer, Mrs. S. J. Smith, Mrs. George F. Ford, Mrs. J. C. Campbell and Miss J. C. Doherty, Mrs. Matie E. Steele and Mrs. Ida R. Swartz."

On the way home the following material was drawn up by Dr. Emma M. Carson and endorsed by Mrs. M. H. Yeates, Fletcher Howard, M. H. Hamilton, C. M. Martin, Francis Hillis, Alice L. Badgley, W. C. Tyler, James Westpheling, R. H. F. Varley, J. B. Sturges, Caroline Thompson, George Williams, R. J. Thornton, Mabel H. Goodman, P. B. McDowell, Bertha Blunk, C. Keller, W. W. Douglas, Mrs. M. A. Rawlinson, Mrs. Clara Smith, Mrs. J. W. Mitchell, "Our trip of inspection, investigation and consideration revealed the most marvelous possibility for future progress and international and commercial interest."

"It was certainly an inspiration that should stimulate a vivid awakening in realization of the vast opportunities and advantages that are ours for the taking if we will do our duty and vote right on Monday, March 24. Vote yes for amendments from 11 to 18 inclusive, and prove yourselves progressive and loyal citizens. Evidence of your intelligence, worthiness and appreciation of the right we have obtained after years of persistent endeavor."

"We must have the harbor or demurely retire, giving San Francisco and San Diego our birthright."

CHARTER MATINEE.

TODAY'S PROGRAMME.

Of the several meetings slated for today, the greatest interest centers in the charter matinee to be held at No. 766 South Spring street, at 2:30 p.m., when a general discussion of the proposed charter amendments will take place.

This evening there will be a mass meeting at South Park and Vernon avenues, at 7:30 o'clock, to be addressed by H. S. McCullum, Col. R. W. Richardson and Mrs. Clara Shortridge Foltz. Later in the evening the same speakers will address a meeting at Vernon and Central avenues. Voters in district No. 12 will assemble at the residence of Mrs. L. A. Gould, No. 2167 Scott street, at 7:30 p.m. The speakers will be Frank P. Doherty and Mrs. Clara Shortridge Foltz.

BOTH EYES BLOWN OUT. FRESNO, March 20.—[By A. P. Night Wire.] Calvin Mayberry, 17 years old, was possibly fatally injured and his 13-year-old brother Earl, and John Snider, aged 60, were seriously injured this afternoon six miles from Fresno by an explosion of dynamite caps, which had become damp and Calvin was experimenting with. Both eyes were blown out, his face horribly disfigured, his right leg shattered and several ribs broken.

STREET WORK.

VISALIA, March 21.—Contracts were let last evening by the members of the City Council for the improvement of West Center street from Encino avenue to Giddings avenue, Schleich & Krey, local contractors, were given the work on a bid of $10,474.25. Four other bids were filed and the figures were remarkably close.

Inquisitive girl. "Some part of the bun is bathed," replied the cook lady, "for want of a better name they are called bath buns. They are an old-fashioned English bun, made of the same dough as the other buns, but we rarely hear of them nowadays and almost never see a recipe for them," and she proceeded to make some, first cutting an orange open and squeezing the juice out. Then she soaked a lump of sugar in the orange juice, pressed it into the center of a flattened bun and turned the edges up, pinching them together as for a "turnover."

When baked, they are delicious, the flavor of the orange permeating the bun and the syrupy center adds to their goodness.

Costumes and Stage Effects.

BY HECTOR ALLIOT.

After seeing Miss Genee and Monsieur Voltaire, the corps de ballet, one can fully realize why, when the "Divine Marie" appeared at His Majesty's Theater in 1914, she inspired an enthusiasm quite unknown in London in those days.

In the autumn of that year she made her final "curtsey" for the sweetest of chacons, and (1899) in gold was placed at her feet.

The walls, themes, first danced during the French revolution, in their Egyptian form and developed through various influences from 1826 to 1860, proved the most popular number of Miss Genee's programme, glorified by her and Mr. Voltaire, in excellent costumes of the period.

"Robert le Diable," a divertissement in pantomime and dance, illustrating an ancient Sicilian legend, was a very attractive feature, and Miss Genee concluded the evening by her celebrated "Hunting Dance."

The exquisite simplicity, grace and modesty of every number is a source of unmingled delight. No leveller pictures have ever been shown before.

Miss Genee not only dances with technical knowledge and ability, but like a fairy seems to walk on air. There is not one suggestion of the heavy, stilted barbarism of the Slav dances in her interpretations; a dainty little French dancer, coy, modest, merciful, revives the past of old, the polka, the cotillon, the early waltz, with the grace of ancient engravings a little faded by time, she does it, however, with great personality, as does her able support, M. Voltaire.

In her dashing "Hunting Dance" we see a different type of woman, the ultra-modern, nervous, extraordinary. Miss Genee could not better demonstrate the range of her powers.

As a full corset, in the understanding of what is really beautiful, elevating and refined in the best art of France, the passage of Miss Genee in our midst is a pleasure.

The most uncompromising opponent to dancing would, I really believe, turn around and look with awe and at least, so tempting is that little Danish fairy and her people.

For young women there is a wonderful lesson in attitudes and grace in these presentations of the art of dancing when it was "of the old."

A change of bill will be given in matinee today, and every other day, to accommodate the appreciative audience, on the worst show evening of the year, except Christmas Eve, indicates that the vast number of spectators, which has greeted Miss Genee in every cosmopolitan city will make for us as well as for us, her visit here one to be long remembered.

The most uncompromising opponent to dancing would, I really believe, turn around and look with awe and at least, so tempting is that little Danish fairy and her people.

For young women there is a wonderful lesson in attitudes and grace in these presentations of the art of dancing when it was "of the old."

A change of bill will be given in matinee today, and every other day, to accommodate the appreciative audience, on the worst show evening of the year, except Christmas Eve, indicates that the vast number of spectators, which has greeted Miss Genee in every cosmopolitan city will make for us as well as for us, her visit here one to be long remembered.

At her dashing "Hunting Dance" we see a different type of woman, the ultra-modern, nervous, extraordinary. Miss Genee could not better demonstrate the range of her powers.

As a full corset, in the understanding of what is really beautiful, elevating and refined in the best art of France, the passage of Miss Genee in our midst is a pleasure.

PLAY AUTHORS DROPPING IN.

EDWIN MILTON ROYLE DUE WITH TWO NEW PLAYS.

"Garden of Weeds" Accepted by Morosco for Early Production.

Walter DeLeon and Maggie Davies to Appear at the Orpheum.

Donaki Brian Likes "The King's Lady."

BY "ZIP."

Authors are coming thick and fast and new play announcements that come daily from the Morosco office give promise of the most interesting theatrical summer Los Angeles has ever enjoyed.

Edwin Milton Royle is now on his way to Los Angeles to produce "The Garden of Weeds" and "The Silent Call," both of which have been accepted by Oliver Morosco.

Mr. Royle is the author of "The Squaw Man," his "The Garden of Weeds" is a dramatization of Harold Bell Wright's popular novel of the same name, while "The Silent Call" is his latest effort, and said to contain a very daring idea.

And yesterday Morosco accepted for production here in the near future a new play, "The Garden of Weeds," which comes from the pen of John Corbin and which assures Mr. Corbin's presence in Los Angeles in the near future.

Speaking of Mr. Corbin, recalls the fact that the special matinee performance idea is being given to the stage in New York. Richard Bennett, by his performance of Brioux's "Damaged Goods," succeeded in getting nationwide publicity, and now Laurette Taylor will give a special matinee performance in the Metropolitan.

On next Friday afternoon, Miss Taylor, the bright little star of "O' My Heart," will be seen at the Lyceum Theater in a new one-act play by Mr. Corbin, and if the expert must prove successful, "The Siren" and Miss Taylor will continue the special afternoon performances at the Lyceum, producing a new play every two weeks.

And then Byron Ongley, responsible for the American version of "The Typhoon," arrived last night with the manuscript of "The Path of Glory," written especially for Florence Reed.

Hayden Talbot's new play, "O, Jes," will finally see the light of day when Miss Reed makes her first appearance at the Morosco Theater, and Paul Armstrong is leaving New York for the latter part of this week for Los Angeles to produce his new piece, "The First," which will have Dustin Farnum as the star.

Looks good for local playhouses, when it is realized that they get these new plays before New York has a chance to see them, and at least one-half the New York tariff per seat.

Some kind person sends me a review of Valdez's "The King's Lady," by Angus Ousley, in a Texas Journal.

The review runs a full column, the following four paragraphs of which are a good example of what Anglo writers of Valdez.

"She is a green, glittering demon woman, in a cloth of gold, with vivid brocades all over it that clings and clings until she sways in it like a graceful snake. It winds and swirls about her under an enveloping cloak of mandarin gorgeousness—purple and yellow and turquoise and gold."

"She is a silver flash in a costume that ripples about her like moonlight and divides at the bottom into a thousand and fringes that glitter like the shivered beams from a thousand stars. It gleams under her wisp like moonlight on snow."

"She is a little red devil, a little, very happy devil in a spangled red frock that seems no fiercer than the flaming flame of her eyes. She reflects its naughty flickers and bounds through the audience in it, leaving a few fleeting kisses on a few favored hair shafts."

Walter DeLeon and Maggie Davies, erstwhile the real stars of the Hartman outfit here at the Grand, broke into vaudeville at the Orpheum in Oakland this week. Reports say they made a clean-up. Here's hoping the entertaining couple travel this way. This seems to eliminate them from the Hartman family opera troupe, and to eliminate Hartman from the local field.

DeLeon could easily organize a tabloid for the Orpheum, with his pretty wife featured. "Tab" are all the rage now, as witness "Puss in Boots," and are eagerly welcomed on any Orpheum bill. DeLeon would have the advantage in that instead of condensing some of his material, he could make new ones, writing words and music himself. It is hardly likely that the clever DeLeon will overlook this opportunity.

Probably the most interested spectator at the rehearsals of "The Typhoon" at the Morosco Theater is the author, Mr. Ongley, who is now in Los Angeles. He is the man responsible for "The Path of Glory," which he has adapted from the play of the same name by Mr. Covington and Jules Simonson's successful farce, "The Path of Glory," which begins the sixth week of its run at the Burbank Theater tomorrow afternoon.

Pure interest in witnessing the performance of a farce did not alone attract him that distance, but having for the past five weeks been rehearsing a very handsome portion of the profits of the farce, led him westward to have a view of the way he was making him so much real money.

Incidentally, Mr. Ongley is the man responsible for "The Path of Glory," which he has adapted from the play of the same name by Mr. Covington and Jules Simonson's successful farce, "The Path of Glory," which begins the sixth week of its run at the Burbank Theater tomorrow afternoon.

Part III—Plays, Players and Playhouses.

PLAYWRIGHTS CAN NOW DO THEIR BEST—OR WORST.

Big Money Offered for Any Author to Produce a Real American Play—No Translations or Adaptations—Lower Prices Demanded for Broadway Theaters.

BY JAMES GRANT THURSTON.

[BY FEDERAL (WIRELESS) LINE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK BUREAU OF THE TIMES, March 21.—[Special Dispatch.] Wonderful news from those who have been hiding up their sleeves, or concealing in the still unsurveyed caverns of their brains, the great play of tomorrow—the American play, be it comedy, tragedy, farce, problem, physical, pseudo-prophetic or just a thrilling, telling, rush-the-crowd-off-it-fast, pure, undiluted, made-to-the-minute play.

Some lucky, gifted, known or still undiscovered American dramatist, who has snatched some of the fire which Prometheus stole from the Mount of Olympus is going to place to his credit in the bank of time a little check for $10,000, which Winthrop Ames of the little theater offers as a prize and a lever to bring to the surface the play most worth while. It must reach Ames before August 15.

NO TRANSLATIONS.

The conditions properly bar out translations, adapted one-act plays or musical comedies, which George Bernard Shaw once said are sometimes musical as to notes and cadences, as to the aim being to restrict the reading task to worth-while works likely to appeal to the general body of playgoers and still stand out from the general as do the Pyramids from the sands of Egypt.

The judgment will be by a committee of three. Ames, representing the theater; Augustus Thomas, as president of the American Society of Dramatists; and Adolph Klabber, the dramatic critic of the New York Times. They should worry. The job is to the playwrights proper to tell who will have the best of effort, even though all cannot win the victory's meed.

Theatrical tariffs, as well as those schedules more talked of in the halls of Congress and the copy corner of the village store, are seemingly doomed to revision downward.

The public wants lower prices for first-class Broadway shows, and Charles Burnham, manager of Wallick's and when that house reopens with "Ann Roy's Bow" on March 31, the old $1 scale will be abandoned forever, perhaps. With the exception of the front row at $1.50, $2, or $2.50, the rest will sell at $1. Other managers will watch results with interest.

Walter Barrymore telegraphed from Cleveland to the committee in charge of the Jesse Edly memorial performance, at which he will be one of the numerous stars who will take part in the benefit at the show on Saturday night, March 23. The presentation will be at the Liberty Theater.

Eva Tanguay, or to be more precise, her artistic manager, has declared war upon the beta pair of the playgoers, the ticket speculator. The lady of the unruly locks and waggish ways has served notice that admission will be refused to all who present passbooks from the brigades in "best seats" if the irregular sales can be traced.

Who will pay for Marietta Crossman's Easter bomb, depends upon how this clever lady lives up to the part of the princess in "The Ghost Breaker" tomorrow afternoon. If the "star" shines like that brilliant orb in Andromeda or the giant Jupiter as a fair, cloudless night in June, the honor and privilege will be Douglas Fairbanks.

Douglas is to be the chauffeur and he has a boon to win from the actress who will have the best of effort, even though all cannot win the victory's meed.

Miss Crossman and Fairbanks attacked the book of "The Ghost Breaker" on record and short notice for lives of a wagger. But Miss Crossman, it may be said, has already ordered the bomb.

"The King's Lady."

JANE HADING IN A NEW VERSION OF DU BARRY.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

PARIS, March 21.—Hardly a day goes by without a new play at the Theatre Sarah Bernhardt, and the most interesting of recent productions, made all the more so because Lucien Guitry acts in one and Jane Hading in the other.

The first place, which is in two acts and entitled "Surviv," is of the contemporary, patriotic variety. It is called "Fiambo," "Alamo" and "Coeur de Francaise," all of which were written in the anti-German enthusiasm following the Kaiser's gunboat going to sea.

The other, called "La Chienne du Roy," is a Du Barry play dealing with the last moments of the famous courtesan of Louis XV, and treating the passing of the King's mistress in a new way.

"La Chienne du Roy" is a vivid, entertaining piece of work, made all the more so by the superb acting of Jane Hading.

MANAGERS ARE IN WRANGLE.

Lee and Walsh Both Claim to Be Burns's Boss.

Tim McGrath Satisfied With Camp's Progress.

Anderson and Donald Leave for Montana.

BY HARRY A. WILKINS.
Frankie Burns appears to have a multiplicity of managers.
Tommy Lee and Tommy Walsh both claim the honor. Lee is already on the ground, and Walsh is scheduled to arrive today. They will meet and talk it over. Indications are that it will be a very conference. The man who wins in that debate will be able to establish his right to boss Burns.
Lee has been looking after Burns's interests in the past, but it was Walsh who arranged Frankie's match with Camp. Lee, it is said, will concede the financial benefits of this match to Walsh, but further than that he will refuse to recognize the claims of the New Orleans man.
May the best man win.

Tim McGrath arrived here yesterday from San Francisco to oversee Camp's training for the battle with Burns. McGrath watched Burns's workout yesterday and expressed himself as satisfied with his condition at the stage of the training.
"Camp is coming along rapidly," said Tim, "and promises to enter the ring better in every respect than when he met William Brown. He is a stronger to the twenty-round route, having gone the distance successfully. I can plan his battle in greater advantage."

Burns eliminated the boxing feature of his program yesterday. He will now devote his time to wrestling, which he has been doing since he was a child. This is a combination that should prove a rare training-camp treat.

Tomorrow will be a busy day at both camps. With their battle one week away, this will be a last opportunity which Camp and Burns will take to show before a Sunday crowd. Camp is to display his increased prowess in his evening bout of boxing with his brother, Young Marino and others as opponents.
Burns will show off his gymnastic skills in the evening at the gymnasium in Venice, using Young Marino, Danny Lyons and Jimmy Lester.

Neither Camp nor Burns has experienced the pleasant sensation that accompanies a knockout. Both have traveled the twenty-round course. Each claims that speed and cleverness are his principal assets, and yet both have displayed a knockout punch on occasion.
Burns probably has a wider experience, but he has not yet had a knockout. He is the more ruggedly built of the two, but Camp's fists today appear to be equally effective. On paper, the battle shapes up as the equal of the Williams-Camp affair, and that was a ring classic.

Bud Anderson, Dick Donald and Earl Moran left yesterday for Wheeler, Oregon, where Bud will fight for the twelve days as a preliminary to his training for the return match with Brown. Bud also takes to the woods in a couple of days.

George Dalton, manager of "Babe" Pinta, has heard the continued pinning of Young Sheverson and Frankie Brown for a fight, and takes notice as follows:
"I am willing to send Pinta against either of these boys on a winner-take-all basis."

STANFORD READY FOR JOINT TEAM.

OCCIDENTAL - POMONA SQUAD WILL HAVE BIG TIME.

Meet With Southerners Will Be One of Features of Junior Week at Cardinal Institution—Baseball Field Day Will Be Held on Day Preceding the Meet.

(Special Correspondence of The Times.)

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, March 20.—The track meet between Stanford and the Occidental-Pomona team, which is to be held here March 24, will be one of the features of the annual Junior week celebration.

The round of festivities will begin next Wednesday afternoon, when the "variety" baseball team will meet Santa Clara. On Wednesday night there will be a "dinner" at Lake Lagunita.

On Thursday afternoon the first annual baseball field day will be pulled off, and at night the Junior opera, "The Mojave Maid," will be produced. On Friday morning the annual Irish Marathon for the interclass championship will be held. Each class will be represented by twenty-four runners, each of whom will negotiate a quarter mile in the afternoon the "variety" track team will take on the Tigers and Sugarbushers from the south.

The Junior promenade will be held Friday night, and on the following day the first intercollegiate basketball game with California will be played at Berkeley.

BERG SIGNS FOR BOUT WITH HOWARD.

BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 21.—Otto Berg of Alaska and Jimmy Howard of Chicago, fighting in the light-pound class, will meet in a ten-round bout at Oakland next Wednesday and the result may have some bearing on middleweight battles of the near future.

Howard has been on this coast for a month looking for a chance to show what he can do and hopes to work his way in a battle with "Babe" Pinta. Berg, a very champion at the Pacific Coast, or Bobby McAllister, the recently-debuted amateur champion.

ALASKA'S BIG DOG RACE TO BE RUN IN TEN DAYS.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

NOME (Alaska) March 21.—Five dog teams already have been entered for the annual All-Alaska sweepstakes race to be run over the 413-mile course from Nome to Chukotka and return April 2.
The entries now in the doghouse are the dogs owned by Mr. C. M. Darling of Berkeley, Cal., and A. A. (Scotty) Allan of Nome, John Johnson, Fay Delana, Percy Blatchford and Alek Holman. Entries will close April 1.

BIG SWIMMING CONTESTS SCHEDULED FOR JULY.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

SAN FRANCISCO, March 21.—An authorized Pacific Coast swimming meet will be held in this city, July 4, President John Elliott of the Pacific association having received the sanction for the meet of the other two Coast organizations, the Pacific Northwestern and the Southern Pacific associations.

W. M. Outman, who will manage the Fourth of July meet for the association, began today the preparation of his program and general plans for the Pacific Coast championship meet, having arranged the sanction of the two Coast organizations, making more than tentative arrangements.

Some Class Here.

JOE MANDOT MATCHED TO FIGHT JOHNNY LORE.

(BY FEDERAL (WIRELESS) LINE TO THE TIMES.)

NEW YORK BUREAU OF THE TIMES, March 21.—(Special Dispatch.) Johnny Lore, the West side lightweight, has been signed up to meet Joe Mandot of New Orleans in a ten-round bout at New Orleans on the night of April 7. They will battle at 115 pounds, weigh in at the ringside and Lore is guaranteed transportation for three. Mandot is to box for 35 per cent of the gross receipts. Both men will begin training next week.

Joe Vernon, who lost several thousands dollars on Jim Jeffries when he was defeated by Jack Johnson at Reno, has sent word to a New York sporting friend that if Jim Jeffries goes into the ring again he will back him to the extent of $5000 to defeat any black or white man in the world.

Tommy Burns, the so-heavyweight champion of the world, will return to the ring again next Monday. He will go against Arthur Palmer, the heavy-weight of Chicago, in a 10-round bout at Calgary, Alberta. If Burns makes a good showing he will be matched to fight Louie McCarty at the same place on May 2.

Looks Good.

BIG FACTORY PROJECT READY.

PANAMA COMPANY SOON TO HAVE SPACIOUS HOME.

Prominent Business Men Endorse Plan to Erect This Building Plant and W. D. Newert Is Selecting Site—Much Interest Taken in the Proposition.

If the interest shown during the past two weeks in the newly formed Panama Rubber Company is any indication of the future of this concern, the greatest of success is assured. Since the first announcement was made of the formation of the Panama Company and the office of the W. D. Newert Rubber Company have been flooded with letters from the prominent people of the Pacific Coast, praising the enterprise and preclaiming its certain success.

Extracts from the letters received are worthy of consideration as they show the attitude of the business men toward a company that will build an automobile tire in a Pacific Coast factory. W. M. Garland, the well-known local real estate man, said:

"In a State where there are 22,000 automobiles, it is only fair and reasonable that you should receive the patronage of the car owner. I shall look forward to the use of your product."

Leo Youngworth writes: "I am sure your factory will be a success from the start. People of the Pacific Coast are known for their loyalty to products manufactured in their own section."

William W. Woods, vice-president of the Citizens National Bank says: "On account of the conditions prevailing here, it is our opinion that the need for a good automobile tire is unquestionably one of the largest in the United States. We commend you upon your energy and enterprise and the officers of the bank wish you much success."

W. H. Harrison, postmaster, writes: "I take this opportunity to congratulate you upon a larger field here for a project such as yours than for any other industry."

There are hundreds of other letters of the same nature. President W. D. Newert is now negotiating for a factory location and expects to make his announcement within the next month.

SWIMMING RACE IS ON FOR TODAY.

(BY FEDERAL (WIRELESS) LINE TO THE TIMES.)

NEW YORK BUREAU OF THE TIMES, March 21.—(Special Dispatch.) The 100-yard national swimming championship of the Amateur Athletic Union will be decided tomorrow in the natatorium of the National Athletic Club, with the elimination trials this evening.

Five are looked upon as possible stars in the race, in Percy McAllister and Harry Hober of the Illinois Athletic Club, Chicago, and James Kelly, Nicholas March and Bud Quinn of the New York Athletic Club.

SOLDIER MEN RACE RIVALS.

Military Marathoners Take Up Training.

Winners of Hike Title Are Strong Contenders.

State's Best Marchers Are in "Times" Contest.

BY AL G. WADSWORTH.

The military marathon team from Co. C, Seventh Regiment of Infantry, N.G.C., will be a strong contender for first honors in the soldiers' event of the Times Modified Marathon again this year.

During the winter and leader of the marathon squad, has announced his intention of entering two full teams in the second annual race April 12.

The boys from Co. C won the event last year from Co. F by a spectacular finish which was recorded as one of the features of the great contest. This season the rivalry between Co. C, F and A is intensely keen and at present, indications point to a shattered record.

ORIENT HIKERS.

It is an acknowledged fact that the three local companies have all other organizations of the regiment and of the National Guard of California shaded when it comes to forced marching.

During the war game which was played in the vicinity of Salinas last summer the Seventh California outclassed even the regulars of the Twelfth Infantry on the long march.

The Los Angeles battalion, under the command of Maj. Truman C. Cole, established a hiking record which will long be remembered by the veterans of the overworked Red Army.

On one occasion, the first battalion was doing outpost duty and was held on the side of the road until the long column, including the wagon train, had passed by. Then it was discovered that Maj. Cole's command belonged up at the head, with the rest of Col. Schreier's regiment, and one of the most strenuous hikes of the entire saga commenced.

HARD GOING.

In order to pass the other regiments it was necessary for the Los Angeles troops to march on the dried grass, which grew on the roadside. This made distance-covering much more difficult, but when the regiment went into camp at Moraga Hill that evening the local battalion was in its proper place and the boys seemed no worse for the trip.

The last day of the campaign was by far the most strenuous. The Seventh led the Red Army into action and the hillside was a scene of battle. It was a hard day for the boys, but they proved too much for members of several other companies in the Seventh regiment, including the regulars.

Four different times the colonel ordered the men to take it easy, but it was no use. When the brigade took its position on the firing line it was learned that many members of the command had fallen from exhaustion during the march.

SEVERAL HOURS.

For several hours, the battle raged and when "recall" was sounded, Co. A started on ahead into the town of Coyote where the last night camp was to be spent. Determined that Co. A should not be first into camp, Capt. Anderson ordered the boys to march on.

It was almost an hour before the other companies of the Seventh arrived and the boys from the regiment limped in by twos and threes for several hours.

The citizen soldiers of Los Angeles pride themselves on their marching ability and the officers are among the leaders in the military sport.

Capt. Anderson, who is the commanding officer of the Whittier State School, not only captains the Co. C team, but coaches the soldier athletes as well. He was largely due to the work of the popular officer that his company won the trophy presented by Gen. Harrison Gray Otis, last year, and he expects another trophy will be added to the collection April 12.

FRANK McREYNOLDS CONFIDENT.

Capt. Frank McReynolds, who stepped in at the last moment last year and filled a vacancy on the squad caused by the illness of one of his men, is in the game to win this year and if he has nothing will win the trophy. Co. F is going to give the present title holders the march of their military careers.

A great team is expected from the ranks of Co. A this season. The boys of this, the oldest company in the National Guard of California, have in all branches of sport engaged in by the State troops and it was a bitter pill for Capt. Holden's boys to shake them and the two organizations marched into Coyote together, with Co. C following a few yards behind.

the revolution broke out, and in the course of time she was arrested, tried before the People's Tribunal, and sentenced to death. In order to gain a little time she made what she called "disclosures," causing innocent

When, however, the fatal hour struck for her she was so frightened that she shrieked all the way from the prison to the place of execution. She even shrieked while the knife was falling.

M. Lavedan has attempted to rehabilitate her. We see her in a dismal cell awaiting her trial. While ine dies on her bed a visitor is introduced, a man dressed like a "man of letters." That man is O'Gorman, an Irish priest, a delegate of one of the secret societies who assisted prisoners in holding high positions to escape. O'Gorman informs her that he first offered his services to Marie Antoinette, but, as the Queen refused to leave the prison without her children, he thought himself of her, the Duke of Barry, and urges her to fly, as she

When the "King's Lady" hears how nobly the Queen behaved, her own pride awakens, and she, too, refuses the proffered aid. Her pride, however, does not prevent her from being mortally afraid, and when the good priest has given her absolution and closes the door after him she falls on the bed writhing in the agonies of fright.

According to history, Mme. Du Barry at the time of her death had lost her good looks. In fact, she had become bloated and ungainly. Mme. Hading, on the other hand, appeared before us a youthful and beautiful vision, like the Du Barry when she first came to court. But the audience had no cause to complain of this anachronism, as the great actress seemed to have stepped out of one of the famous portraits by Vigee-Lebrun, painted at Louveciennes, while the Du Barry was still in the height of her beauty. Mme. Hading scored a huge triumph and may be congratulated on this performance, unique of its kind.

TURTLE SERUM ADMINISTERED.

Monrovia Specialist Gives Cure a Trial.

Coveted Product Furnished by Pasadena Physician.

Alligator Pear Promises to Claim Its Place.

MONROVIA, March 21.—Dr. J. L. Fry, assisted by Dr. Henry G. Fry, of Pasadena, this morning made the first injection of the Friedman turtle serum which has been made on the coast. The treatment was given Mrs. Albert Erickson, a victim of pulmonary tuberculosis, living on North Shattuck avenue. The case is considered an average one by the physicians.

The serum was secured by Dr. Fry from Dr. H. H. Friedman, and is the only Friedman serum on the coast. Dr. Fry is not a specialist in tuberculosis, but is making the tests with Dr. Friedman, who is a specialist in that disease.

Dr. Friedman is making the tests only as an experiment, and does so at the patient's request, without making any promise as to the efficacy of the cure. In connection with the treatment given today he made the following statement:

"In order to inform the public concerning my interest in regard to the Friedman treatment of tuberculosis, I will state that through Dr. H. G. Fry, of Pasadena, we are in a position to treat such patients as so desire to take this treatment.

"We are not urging people to rush to us for treatment, but are endeavoring only to treat those who upon their own responsibility desire to take what benefits are to be derived.

"As far as I am concerned I will endeavor to protect the interests of every individual in so far as I can, and trust that only the best results will come from our efforts."

INDUSTRY MAKES STRIDES. Dan C. Closser, proprietor of the semi-tropical nursery, and one of the leading authorities on avocadoes, has just completed the planting of a new grove through the alligator-pear section of Southern California, and states that, notwithstanding the January frost, he is making the greatest strides since the fruit has been introduced into this country.

"The setting out of the stock being limited only by the amount of budded varieties on hand, and the trip he visited recently every well-known tree in the Southland, and in a position to make authoritative statements on the future of avocado culture in California.

The recent freeze, he alleges, has shown conclusively that it is local to propagate a tree which will not be frost-killed enough not to be touched by the most severe cold experienced in the state. It is the purpose of bringing about this result is to force the tree into a dormant state at the approach of the winter.

With the coming of late as they do, the grove having the climatic conditions of the coast, some of the varieties are now, these have stood the test of the frost far better than any other. From this year on, the avocado is safe from frost damage.

As to the future of the avocado, Mr. Closser believes that the Mexican hard-shinned eagle, known as the "paca," will be the fruit to propagate the industry. It is of a large, uniform size, and the foreign product is a marketable fruit.

While the present price of $10 to $15 per bushel will not hold after the fruit is widely grown, the certain point is that the high food value of the product, the high food value of the product, the high food value of the product, the high food value of the product.

As soon as the general public has had a taste of the wonderful fruit, Mr. Closser predicts, the industry will make the most rapid strides in the history of the south.

BOB-BLENDING. Despite the frost weather which has prevailed for the last week, several high school boys have been spending their vacations in bobbing on the frozen surface of Crystal Lake, which lies in the mountains behind Coldbrook camp. The boys had planned for the day after tomorrow, but the weather was too bad for them to go.

SAN BERNARDINO, March 21.—The Oil Company has secured a franchise with trucking and has commenced work of erecting an immense oil storage and distributing station in the interior because of its central location.

The plant will be one of the largest of its kind in the state and will be carried. San Bernardino is the company's principal point of distribution.

The site for the plant is now being cleared and the material is being brought in. The work of construction is making the tests only as an experiment, and does so at the patient's request, without making any promise as to the efficacy of the cure.

MANY JOINTS ARE RAIDED.

Riverside Officers Spend a Profitable Evening.

Bernhardt Will Make One More Farewell Tour.

One Million Bees Shipped to Imperial Valley.

RIVERSIDE, March 21.—Believing that Riverside's Chinatown is the distributing point for opium smugglers who come over the Mexican border, Inspector J. H. Devine, of the Riverside Police, is making an earnest effort to stamp out the traffic. He claims the drug is sent as far north from this point as Bakersfield and as far south as Santa Barbara on the north-west.

As the result of investigations conducted by Devine, Chief of Police, with the aid of twenty-five officers, raided fourteen alleged joints at 10:30 last night. Instead of capturing twenty-five violators, Devine thought should be the outcome of the raid, only two Celestials were caught in the official drug net.

Devine declares there was a leak somewhere, and thinks it is identical with the source of the leak last year, when the Chinatown was raided. An effort will be made to locate the guilty parties.

Wong Woy and Ah Bac, the two Chinese arrested, were released on $250 cash bail each, and their hearing set for March 31.

BERNHARDT LIVES RIVERSIDE. Desiring of seeing more of the environment of Riverside, Madame Sarah Bernhardt returned to the Glenwood Mission Inn last evening in company with her English secretary, Miss K. Ormsby, and Dr. Marol, French secretary, and traveling companion.

The actress escaped the curious eyes of the guests who chanced to know of her plans, by alighting from her touring car outside the hotel and reaching her apartment on the second floor by way of a secluded entrance on the west side of the hotel.

The disappointed guests in the lobby got a glimpse only of the two trunks and seventeen pieces of hand baggage which followed the arrival of the party.

The actress has spent the day in automobile touring of the city's miles of tree-lined boulevards. Asked as to whether Madame Bernhardt regarded her present tour as her last in America, Miss Ormsby admitted that she would not be surprised to hear of her returning at a later date, owing to the actress' perfect health and regard for American people.

MOVES BEE RANCH BODILY. The first move in the transportation and transplanting of a bee farm from Los Angeles to Imperial Valley, containing nearly a million Italian bees, were loaded on a freight car at the Los Angeles depot.

The bees belong to William Barth of Jurupa avenue, who believes he will find it profitable to put the honeybees to work in the alfalfa fields of the desert valley.

The teamsters who hauled the bees to the freight depot are now en route to the new home of the bees, where they will be set to work.

BACKS UP MILITANTS. The militant suffragettes of Elmsdale-Bell of Ambleside, England, who is a guest of the Mission Inn, "The woman's hour," she says, "is a thing of the past. We are doing no more than the men did back in the forties. You Americans gained your freedom by force, and I don't see how you can find fault with the suffragettes in the fight for their freedom and the ballot."

The English visitor declares the trouble in England lies in the fact that the nation is too big, too numerous, and were the women to gain suffrage they would come into control of the government.

MOTORCYCLE RACES. In the motorcycle races at Chemsawa Park tomorrow afternoon, Art King, riding an eight-valve Indian racer, will attempt to break the record for track record held by Paul Derkum, Charles Knoll, another local rider who has many trophies to his credit, will ride the latest model of an Excelsior. The Sherman Institute band has been engaged for the occasion.

POMONA UTILITIES FIGHT. Citizens Apply for Writ of Mandate to Compel Mayor and Council to Pass Ordinance. The fight in Pomona to force a reduction in the rates for water, gas and electric light assumed an unusual form yesterday when application for a writ of mandate was filed to compel Mayor Matthews and the City Council to adopt initiative petitions for the passage of ordinances fixing the rates. The order to show cause was made returnable before Superior Judge Conroy next Wednesday.

The bees belong to William Barth of Jurupa avenue, who believes he will find it profitable to put the honeybees to work in the alfalfa fields of the desert valley.

The teamsters who hauled the bees to the freight depot are now en route to the new home of the bees, where they will be set to work.

BACKS UP MILITANTS. The militant suffragettes of Elmsdale-Bell of Ambleside, England, who is a guest of the Mission Inn, "The woman's hour," she says, "is a thing of the past. We are doing no more than the men did back in the forties. You Americans gained your freedom by force, and I don't see how you can find fault with the suffragettes in the fight for their freedom and the ballot."

The English visitor declares the trouble in England lies in the fact that the nation is too big, too numerous, and were the women to gain suffrage they would come into control of the government.

MOTORCYCLE RACES. In the motorcycle races at Chemsawa Park tomorrow afternoon, Art King, riding an eight-valve Indian racer, will attempt to break the record for track record held by Paul Derkum, Charles Knoll, another local rider who has many trophies to his credit, will ride the latest model of an Excelsior. The Sherman Institute band has been engaged for the occasion.

POMONA UTILITIES FIGHT. Citizens Apply for Writ of Mandate to Compel Mayor and Council to Pass Ordinance. The fight in Pomona to force a reduction in the rates for water, gas and electric light assumed an unusual form yesterday when application for a writ of mandate was filed to compel Mayor Matthews and the City Council to adopt initiative petitions for the passage of ordinances fixing the rates. The order to show cause was made returnable before Superior Judge Conroy next Wednesday.
